Some rules about teams-companies interaction

- Interaction must follow the rules of a professional relationship (formal, polite, serious, ...).
Companies can demand specific rules (confidentiality) and teams MUST follow them
- Interaction rules must result from an agreement (Who ? When ? How ?)
Some usual rules
 - Only one team member contacts the companies (usually the manager)
 - Team and company agree on a periodic meeting (every other week)
 - Communicate properly : clear, efficient, express a need, with proper channel (e-mail, phone, meeting,...)
 - Reasonable response delay (a few days)
- Both parts are useful to and expect from each other
